PRESENTED WITH GOLD LOVING CUP

The Gift of the City of New

THE DAY IN DETAIL

NEW YORK, September 30 .- The second day of the official welcome to Admiral Dewey opened cool and clear. There was hard y a cloud in the sky and the temperature was just low enough to keep the crowd on the move. Many people were out at sunrise to secure desirable points from which to view the parade, but lower Broadway was well filled with those who were anxious to have a look at Dewey on his way to the city hall, whether they were to see the great parade or not.

The first ceremony today was the presentation at the city hall of a gold loving cup to the admiral by Mayor Van Wyck on behalf of the city of New York.

At 7 o'clock the police boat Patrol, with a special reception committee on board, made up of St. Clair McKelway, Wm. Mc-Adoo, Levi P. Morton, Chauncey M. Depew, Richard Croker and Warren M. Foster, started for the Olympia. The admira-boarded the Patrol, which steamed to the Battery, where the city's guest was met

M. Van Brunt and O. S. Cookney.

The admiral, accompanied by the reception committee and escorted by squadron
A and a detail of mounted police, proceeded up Broadway to the city hail. Ala

Too Early to Talk. As Admiral Dewey sat in his carriage at the Battery waiting for the line to move he was asked if he had any expressions to make concerning the celebrations. He "No, I have nothing to say this morning I have not yet gotten my eyes open."

In regard to the demonstrations of yesterday and last night he said: "It was magnificent Governor Roosevelt, accompanied by his dovernor Roosevert, accompanied by ms adjutant general, Avery D. Andrews; his orderly and Seth Low were among the first to arrive at the city hall, for the presentation ceremony. They got there a few min utes after 8 o'clock and were ushered into the mayor's office. The mayor had not yet arrived, but he put in an appearance a few minutes later. Then came Admiral Philip. Colonel Treadwell, Captain Asa utes later Rear Admiral Schley came in in full dress and was received by Gen. Howoffice was filled up with mintary and nava officers of all dress and uniform. Admira-Schiey was the center of attraction, and he was kept busy shaking hands with those who were introduced to him. Capt. Coghlan, formerly of the Raleigh, came in, and was greeted with "Hoch der He smilingly responded and ook hands all round.

It was 8:40 o'clock when the clatter of cavalry was heard, and the people in the mayor's office looked out to see Troop A, followed by the carriages with the admiral and the committee. "Fall in after the mayor," shouted Secretary Downes, and Mayor Van Wyck and his secretary hastened to the platform in front of the building, where the presentation was to take place.

The mayor had just reached the platform when Admiral Dewey came upstairs. The admiral walked over to the mayor, and with a hearty "Good morning," shook him warmly by the hand. Capt. Lamberton, Lieut. Brumby, with Chauncey M. Depew, Levi P. Morton and Richard Croker, followed, and then came the other officers of the Olympia and the remaining members of the committee.

Rush for the Platform. By this time the military and naval officers in the mayor's office and the prominent citizens realized that Dewey had come, and they made a rush for the plat form. There was danger of it being overcrowded, and Capt. Copeland of the city hall squad closed the gates, shutting out Admiral Schley, Capt. Coghlan, Capt. Walker, Capt. Dyer, Gov. Roosevelt and other prominent persons, who arrived a minute late.

Rear Admiral Schley climbed over the gate and he was followed by naval officers, but Gov. Roosevelt remained . One of his staff rushed up to Copeland of the police squad and whispered, "The governor feels slighted." The gate was opened again and Gov Roosevelt took his pla e within the inclosure. Admiral Dewey evinced a desire to shake hands with all the naval officers and introduce them to the mayor. He almost hugged Rear Admiral Schley and patted Coghlan on the back. As Dewey greeted Schley the crowd sent cheer after cheer for "Dewey and As soon as the greetings were over the mayor began his speech presenting the city's loving cup. The mayor said, in part: "To the mayor has been assigned the personally pleasant duty of presenting to you in the name of the city of New York, the metropolis of our country, this loving cup, a keepsake to remind you from time to time of her love for you and her special pride in your deeds of valor, which she believes will for ages to come insure full respect of all nations and people for our star flag, whether flung to the breeze over the man-of-war or over the ship of Dewey began to reply by saying: The Admiral's Response.

"It will be quite impossible for me, Mr. Mayor, to express in words-" at this point he was interrupted with cheers, and he began again:

"It would be quite impossible for me to express in words how deeply I am moved by this—all these honors, one after the other—that beautiful cup, the freedom of the city, this great, magnificent reception. I cannot say what I want, but speaking for myself and the gallant squadron I had the honor to command at Manila. I thank you from the bottom of my heart."

After the formal ceremonies Admiral Dewey went about shaking hands with his "Come here, all of you captains," he said, addressing the naval captains present. Ther he introduced each to the audience present "Captain Lamberton of the Olympia," he cried, "Captain Wilder of the Bost tain Coghlan of the Raleigh, Capt. Dyer of the Baltimore, Captain Wood of the Petrel, Captain Walker of the Concord."

When the captains had all assembled he waved his hand toward them and said:

"These are the men who did it. These are the men who should be thanked. Without them I could do nothing."

The loving cup presented to the a miral is Roman in form and is made of 18-carat gold. The handles are formed of three delphins, wrought in green gold. Around the neck are forty-five stars, emblematic of the Union. The body of the cup is divided by the handles into three panels, which are employed for the principal decorations. On the front panel is a portrait in relief of Admiral Dewey, surrounded with a wreath of oak leaves, the whole resting on an eagle with outstretched wings. Underneath this panel upon the band around the foot are the letters "G. D., U. S. N."

The second panel has chased in half relief a picture of the Olympia, and beneath is a shield with four stars, betokening the recipient's grade. On the third panel is an escutcheon upon which is engraved the inservices with the newes of mayor and

The coat-of-arms of the city of New York appears below the inscription. About the feet are a series of anchors, a rope tied in three knots delphine seawed and other nautical knots, dolphins, seaweed and other nautical devices.

The cup stands thirteen inches high, has a capacity of four and a half quarts and cost $5,000.

Gen. Miles Arrives.

Maj. Gen. Miles arrived just as the party left the platform for the carriages. Rear Admiral Sampson was not on the stand at the city hall. He did not arrive in time. The start from the city hall was made promptly on time. Just after the ceremo nies of the presentation of the cup were over a carriage with a coachman in livery, accompanied by an Olympia sailor, drove up to the foot of the steps leading to the platform. A moment later the admiral, accompanied by Mayor Van Wyck, stepped into the carriage A dozen policemen on into the carriage. A dozen policemen on foot ran ahead of the carriage across the plaza toward Broadway. There a squad of mounted police was in waiting. The carriages had just started when the school children who were to sing for Admiral Dewey put in an appearance. There was much disamplentment that the children had much disappointment that the children had not arrived earlier. It took only a minute to clear Broadway to Warren street, where the admiral and his party took the steamer Sandy Hook for Claremont.

The admiral's carriage was followed by a company of Squadron A, and on either side there was an escort of mounted men. Immediately following the admiral and the mayor was Rear Admiral Schley, and after him came eight carriages containing mili-tary officers and citizens as well as a number of members of the city govern

Admiral Dewey acknowledged the appliause by raising his hat.

The trip up the Hudson on board the Sandy Hook was without a hitch. The boat left the foot of Warren street at 9:50 o'clock and arrived at foot of 129th street at 10:35. Admiral Dewey was in fine spirits, although he complained of a slight cold and said he would read the standard beautiful to the standard beautiful to the standard beautiful to the standard search to the s and said he would wear his shoulder cape during the parade. Maj. Gen. Miles was one of the first to greet him on the boat. To Gen. Miles the admiral said:

"Not exactly," replied Gen. Miles. "I'd call it real Dewey weather."

Breakfast on the Sandy Hook. The admiral, Mayor Van Wyck and Senator-elect Chauncey M. Depew partook of breakfast today in the main saloon of the Sandy Hook. The admiral was quite abstemious, drinking only a little bouillon and declining a cigar. He greeted Governor McMillin of Tennessee very cordially, and said he had a good story to tell him.

"It's about one of your boys. During one of the land battles outside of Manila on of the Tennessee regiments was engaged in skirmishing. One of your soldiers had been shot at twice by a Filipino, and both shots missing tire, the Tenn ssee boys, becoming disgusted at the poor marksmanship of the Filipino, ran over to him and gave him a good sanking, saving.

"'Now, go home and be good.'" Whitelaw Reid was cordially received by whitelaw Reid was cordary received by the admiral, as was Sir Thomas Lipton. Rear Admiral Schley, who was on board with Rear Admiral Philip, was also warmly greeted by the admiral, and they swapped several stories.

"Have you read all about the celebration?" a reporter asked of the admiral. "Not yet," was the reply, "but I'm saving all the papers. When you have a mayor who wakes you up at 7 o'clock you have little time to read."

Speaking of the honors which had been showered on him, Admiral Dewey said:

"It's a great thing when a great city like
New York stops work for two days to do oner to one man." The voyage up the river was one contin-nous ovation, every style of craft with a whistle or other noise-making power avail-ng itself of the opportunity to salute admiral.

Parade Starts at 11:15 A.M. The head of the parade started from Grant's tomb at 11:15 a.m. At the given signal the platoon of police advanced, clearing away the crowds that overflowed into the street. Some little distance behind, on a bay horse, rode Mai. Gen. Charles F. Roe, N. G., N. Y., followed by his staff. Then came Sousa's Band playing a spirited air, and behind it was a battalion of saliors from the Olympia.

Then followed the carriage containing Admiral Dewey, by whose side was seated the mayor of the city. In response to the cheers of the thousands of speciators the admiral bowed right and left and appeared greatly pleased at the warmth of his Following were three carriages, contain-

BONA-FIDE CIRCULATION.

A reference to the statement below wil show that the circulation sworn to is a bona-fide one. It is easily possible for a news paper with an elastic conscience to swell its legitimate circulation enormously, in order to deceive advertisers, by sending out thousands of papers to newsstands which are returnable, and which are in fact returned, but nevertheless are included in what purports to be an hones, statement of circulation.

Intelligent advertisers, however, judge by results, and bogus circulations don't give them.

The cheers for the Olympia's sailors were still resounding down the close-packed lines of spectators when a deeper, mightier shout arose and was taken up and proonged in one thunderous wave of sound. as Admiral Dewey's carriage, in which was Mayor Van Wyck, followed his "men behind the guns," bowing and smiling with bared head to the shouting multitude.

the line. Qu. a a demonstration in honor of Rear Adn I Schley was made at the starting point, and the cheers for him almost equaled those given to Dewey. He was kept busy lifting his hat and bowing an acknowledgment of the ovation he received. Rear Admiral Philip was another favorite. His admonition to his men at the battle of Santiago—"Don't cheer, boys, they are dying, uttered when the Spanish fleet was wrecked and sinking—was shouted a bowing admiral time and time again. Urged for District Commissioner by a Delegation of Citizens.

A delegation of citizens from Northeast Washington was at the White House today to push the candidacy of Lorin M. Saunders for District Commissioner when there is a vacancy. The delegation consisted of Evan H. Tucker, Loring Chappel, Wm. J. Frizzell, Dr. E. W. Kirby, Dr. L. D. Walter, Wm. O. Miller, J. R. Colvin, H. H. F. Holsten, S. Sowerbutts and H. H. Martin.

The delegation presented a petition highly praising Mr. Saunders' qual fications and itness for the position. The petition narrates that Mr. Saunders has been a citisen of Washington for thirty years; that he is both a lawyer and business man, and the the enjoys an extensive acquaintance with the people and affairs of the city.

The President repeated what he has said to other delegations—that he has not received Mr. Wight's resignation, and does not know when it will be tendered, if at all.

GENERAL TURNOUT APPROPRIATE

Prominent Citizens Assigned to the Capitol Rotunda.

ALL READY FOR MONDAY

The arrangements for the national recep tion to Admiral Dewey are completed. The national capital is beginning to be flagfilled and bunting beautiful, and the energetic citizens who represent the population of the District of Columbia, as well as the representatives of the national government, have good reason to be proud of their accomplishment. All that is needed now to make the greeting to Admiral Dewey commensurate with the services he has ren dered to the country is for the individual citizen to get a move on himself. it may be impossible for all persons to decorate or illuminate their premises, but there is a splendid opportunity afforded to a vast number of the people of Washington to pay Admiral Dewey a tribute that will be pleasing to him and complimentary to the community at large. Those who are members of the civic, patriotic and other organiza-tions, and who are connected with the Na-tional Guard and other military organizational Guard and other military organiza-tions will have a chance to turn out in the c'vic parade of Monday right and the mili-tary parade Tuesday, which will escort Ad-miral Dewey to the Capitol, where he is to be presented with the sword voted to him by the Congress of the nation.

After the organized parade Monday night passes up the avenue it would be most ap-propriate if the crowd assembled to see the procession should fall in behind it and pay procession should fall in behind it and pay its respects to the great sea captain. It would be a tremendous compliment if the men and women of Washington would fill the avenue from curb to curb and go up in serried ranks to safute the man who has so signally distinguished himself as a devoted servant of the American people. He would appreciate it, too.

It would be a very delightful thing for the admiral to see a flag-waying crowd of the admiral to see a flag-waving crowd of enthusiastic Americans come up the main thoroughfare of the nation's capital to accentuate the organized ovation tendered to him. It is to be earnestly hoped that the citizens of Washington and the visitors alike will appreciate this opportunity to add to the tribute to be paid to Admiral

A great advantage that will accrue from A great advantage that will accrue from this demonstration will be in the fact that the participants will have an opportunity to see Admiral Dewey. He is perfectly willing to wait upon the reviewing stand until all the followers of the parade pass by, and to see Dewey is something that every patriotic American earnestly desires.

Change of Program. President McKinley has decided upon as important change in the program for the Dewey exercises at the Capitol Tuesday The original agrangement has been that the President and members of his party would go to the Capitol and, in their rooms, await the arrival of Admiral Dewey.

As an act of special courtesy to the hero of Manila the, President is going to do something never done before on a similar occasion. He will waive all ceremony as being the superior of Admiral Dewey, and will invite the admiral to the White House the morning of the departure to the Capitol Admiral Dewey will go to the White House in the splendid carriage furnished by Mrs. McLeap. He will enter and be received by the President, and at the appointed time the President will accompany the guest of the occasion to the Capitol.

They will both ride in the same carriage through the streets. The President is well aware that the plaudits of the multitude will not be for him, and he will in no way acknowledge, the salutations and well wishes of the people on the streets, leaving that to Admiral Dewey.

Viewing Stands Prohibited. Major Sylvester today issued an order to the police department which explains itself. The order is as follows:

"Heretofore the practice has prevailed of parties placing dry goods boxes and barrels along Pennsylvania avenue, on the reis along Pennsylvania avenue, on the sidewalk, in order to witness parades, and in this wise obstruct the view of persons in the rear. Such action is unjust discrimination, and should be stopped.

"Please instruct the officers that Pennsylvania avenue will not be allowed to be obstructed October 2 and 3 during the parades in this manner, as it is a violation of law.

"It would be well to notify persons doing business along this street that the space beyond that set apart for displaying goods belongs to the public, and must not be obstructed."

Program of the Red Men. The Dewey reception committee of the Improved Order of Red Men held its final meeting last night, at which every tribe was represented. The committee decided unanimously in favor of participating in the parade given in honor of Admiral Chairman James E. Bliss presided, and Chairman James E. Bliss presided, and Great Sennap J. A. McPherson acted as secretary of the meeting. It was decided to notify the various tribes to assemble at the wigwam of Tuscarora Tribe, No. 5, Washington Hall, 3d and Pennsylvania avenue southeast, Monday evening, October 2, at 6 o'clock. It was also decided that all members shall procure their costumes and trappings individually. Considerable regret was expressed when the siderable regret was expressed when the committee was informed that no horses would be allowed in the parade, as it was concluded the Red Men would make a much better showing on horseback than on foot.

Reports from officers to the adjutant general are to the effect that the Span'sh War Veterans will be largely represented in the parade Monday night. The boys are enthusiastic over the opportunity afforded them to march in line with the Grand Army of the Republic and kindred veteran organizations. While the order specifies field uniforms, those having parts of uniorganizations. While the order specifies field uniforms, those having parts of uniforms are expected to parade. Spanish War Veterans without any part of uniforms are expected to parade. forms are requested to march in the rear of the column. Those in citizens' dress will report to the adjutant general at 5:20 o'clock, corner of 8th street and Louisiana As the Spanish War Veterans are assigned a position in the center of a division it is expected that General Harries will furnish a band for their use.

Testing the Horses. Thirty horses, in charge of the members of the police department, were taken to 1st and T streets last night and tested for the Dewey celebration. A fire was built on the lot and packages of firecrackers were thrown in the flames. In addition to this the officers discharged Roman candles. Some lively prancing was done by some of the animals. Major Sylvester's horse did more kicking and prancing than any other, and is the only one of the thirty that will not participate in the parade. Most of the horses stood the test well.

Permission will, of course, be granted the Virginia troops.

The Dewey reception ceremonies have caused an unusual demand for permits for caused an unusual demand for permits for or balconies along the line of the parade. The time is now too short to issue a separate permit in each case, and owners are advised to prop all balconies as on occasion of the inaugural parade. Monday the supports will be inspected and the use pro-ports will be inspected and the use pro-hibited of all balconies not strengthened. DR. GODDING'S SUCCESSOR

New Superintendent of the Hospital for the Insane.

The Secretary of the Interior Selects Dr. A. B. Richardson of Massillon, Ohio.

The Secretary of the Interior today appointed Dr. A. B. Richardson of Massillon, Ohio, superintendent of the Government Hospital for the Insane at Washington, D. C., to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. W. W. Godding. Dr. Richardson is a native of Ohio, about orty-seven years of age. He is a graduate of Bellevue Hospital Medical College of New York, and has been a practicing physician since his graduation. He was at one time assistant physician at the Athens, Chio, Hospital for the Insane, and in 1881 was made medical superintendent of that institution. In 1890 he resigned and went to Cincinnati to practice the specialty of nervous diseases, and in 1892 was made superinten-dent of the Columbus (Ohio) Asylum for the Insane. In 1898 he was appointed to the superintendency of the State Hospital for the Insane at Massillon, Ohio, where he is at present. Dr. Richardson is mar-ried and has four children. No Polities in the Case.

At the Interior Department it was stated the appointment was made upon the recommendation of a majority of the medical members of the board of visitors, and that there was absolutely no politics in the case There are only three medical members or the board. They are Surgeon General Gunnell of the navy, Surgeon General Wymin of the marine hospital service and Dr. W.

W. Johnston of this city.

In view of the fact that the institution is embraced in the classified service, it was confidently expected the acting superinten-dent, Dr. Witmer, who has been the senior assistant for some years, would get the place. Before Dr. Richardson was appointed, however, it became necessary to obtain the consent of the civil service commission The Secretary of the Interior, in accordance with the law, sent the recommendation for Dr. Richardson's appointment to the President, and the latter promptly ap-proved it. It was then sent to the civil service commission, which issued the necessary order which made the appointment possible. Requirements of the Position. The law governing the appointment is as follows: "The chief executive officer of the Hospi tal for the Insane shall be a superintendent who shall be appointed by the Secretary of the Interior and shall be entitled to a salary of $2,500 a year and shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties, in such sum and with such securities as may be required by the Secretary of the

"The superintendent shall be a well-educated physician, possessing competent experience in the care and treatment of the insane; he shall reside on the premises and devote his whole time to the welfare of the institution; he shall, subject to the approval of the visitors, engage and discharge all needful and usual employes in the care of the insane, and all laborers on the farm, and determine their wages and duties; he shall be the responsible disbursing agent of

pecial Dispatch to The Evening Star.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, September 30.-So many indications of coliusion between the leaders of the anti-Hanna republicans and the democrats are coming to light that there is no longer doubt that there is just such an alliance as was .nade in 1887, when the state came very near going republican on the legislative ticket.

The proof of this condition puts a new phase on the political situation in Obio and greatly increases McLean's chances for election. Charles L. Kurtz, the leader of the anti-Hanna republicans, refuses to make any statement, but from the republican state committee it is learned that he has refused to pay his campaign assessment to the committee, and also to furnish the committee with a list of his subordinates in the state oil inspection depart-

Terms of the Alliance.

A very plausible story is published here to the effect that an agreement has been reached between McLean, Governor Bushnell and Kurtz by which, in the event of McLean's election, the legislature and all the state institutions are to be reorganized with anti-Hanna republicans in the minor positions. It is hoped that the democra's positions. It is noped that the democra's and anti-Hanna republicans will control the legislature again, in which event Chas. P. Grimm, a leading anti-Hanna republican of Toledo, is to be speaker and Charles Gerrish of this city continued as cierk.

Conspiracy Causes Alarm.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, September 30 .- Administration republicans throughout the state are much concerned over the McLean-Bushneil alliance They have not doubted that t'e c uspi acy exists, but are surprised at the formulable character of the combination against Judge Nash. Democrats don't like the idea of John R. McLean partering away the offices they hoped to ful in the event of a democratic victory. They are saying that the present state employes have held office for four years and have had enough of the em nents of politics. Ex-Mayor McKisson today insisted that he was in no way connected with the con-
